The Monteur armchair is an addition to the TUTTU series of the same name, enhancing its universal, functional character. Replaceable soft parts made it possible to create a family of modular chairs, united by a friendly design.

The chair takes its name from the French word editor. Inspired by a person who deliberately cuts off the unnecessary, leaving the very essence. Monteur has become the personification of this craft, thanks to its laconic appearance and rich attention to detail. A distinctive feature of Monteur is the even more rounded and harmonious shapes of the seat and backrest, located on a universal steel frame. And the smooth line of the edging, outlining the silhouette, emphasizes its pure image.

We delved deeper into the soft part, reducing the size of the cushions, creating two separate compartments for the backrest and seat in the elegant outer cover. It is quickly attached to the frame using convenient Velcro. We also worked on the filling, choosing a combination of polyurethane foam, a base softening material and a felt lining to add elasticity. Thanks to this, the landing received additional comfort and received greater stability in operation for many years. This also allows it to be used in both home environments and more formal spaces and waiting rooms. Monteur is easily personalized, thanks to combinations of a large palette of indoor and outdoor textiles.
