A high stool in solid ash wood that complements the Diox collection of the same name. It tells the story of a noble wood subjected to the hand of the craftsman. Its image is inspired by craftsmanship, the smell of wood shavings, and the precise movement of the carpenter's skilled hands on the product. Diox establishes a direct link between the chemistry of creating a product and its final perception.

Bold wooden elements in solid ash wood. Tactilely pleasing edges rich in natural texture. Elegant finishes, in natural light and deep black tones. A wholesome image that both calls for continuity and returns us to the natural sources of creative power. However, it continues to weave the fabric of time enriching the world with a new realised product of the object world. Diox reinterprets the joinery of the past, into a contemporary cultural element, keeping it natural and simple.
