The Guipure conference table consists of a metal support with a graphic pattern, in the manner of a mesh textile. This peculiarity is expressed in the name: from the French guipure — "fine lace". The stable construction of the table balances the elements of the composition. At the same time, the main attention is focused on the noble solid table top. Its large size requires careful selection of wood with a pronounced pattern. The finished look of the product is given by the faceting effect on the edges of the surface.
