The Dreamer desk is designed without visual frills. It invites you to dream without distracting details and remains your discreet partner. At the same time, it has artisanal woodworking features that are important for interiors with a hügge philosophy. A lovely feature of the Dreamer are the peephole fronts, the side cuts of which act as handles. They enliven the table, making it even more friendly. The desk is equipped with two smooth-opening drawers for small items, making it extremely functional for organising a comfortable workspace. They open to their full length, with a maximum load capacity of up to 20 kg. Removable steel table legs for compact transport. They are bolted to the table.
