The Monteur armchair is an addition to the TUTTU series of the same name, reinforcing its versatile, functional character. Interchangeable upholstered parts have made it possible to create a family of modular armchairs united by a friendly design. The armchair takes its name from the French word for editor. Inspired by a person who thoughtfully cuts away the superfluous, leaving the very essence. Monteur has come to epitomise this craft, with its concise appearance and meticulous detailing. It is characterised by the rounded and harmonious shapes of the seat and backrest, set on a versatile steel frame. And the smooth cant line outlining the silhouette emphasises its clean image.

We've delved deeper into the upholstered section by creating a removable outer cover with two separate sections for the backrest and seat. It is quickly attached to the frame with convenient Velcro fasteners. The inner cushions are made up of a combination of polyurethane foam, the main cushioning material, and felt padding for resilience. This has given the fit extra comfort and greater stability in use for years to come. This also allows it to be used for both home environments as well as more formal spaces and waiting rooms. Monteur is easily personalised by combining a large palette of interior and outdoor textiles.
